Introduction

Gundabluey Research Pty Ltd (ACN 090 519 494) ("Gundabluey Research") respects and upholds your rights under the Australian Privacy Principles contained in the Privacy Act 1988 (Cth) ("Privacy Act"). Gundabluey Research also adheres to the Privacy (Market and Social Research) Code 2014 ("Code"). For more information about the Privacy Act, the Australian Privacy Principles and the Code click here <http://www.oaic.gov.au/privacy/privacy-act/the-privacy-act>.

This Privacy Policy for Gundabluey Research lets you know what personal information of yours we hold, what we do with it, who we will disclose it to and how you can access the personal information we hold about you. You can also find out here how to change inaccurate personal information and how to opt out of receiving communications from us.

What personal information about you does Gundabluey Research collect and hold?

For business to business research, the information Gundabluey Research collects will include name, position/occupation, company turnover, number of employees and industry type, as well as information collected regarding opinions on business conditions and business confidence. For consumer research, this may include name, occupation, salary, opinions and feedback with regard to products and services. When providing personal information for a consumer survey, you have the option of remaining anonymous or use a pseudonym to be identified by. However, in certain circumstances, such as where we receive your contact details from a third party or where the research data itself may potentially allow for identification, this may will not be practicable.

We do not collect any sensitive information about you personally, although we do collect information that may be considered commercially sensitive in terms of public disclosure. Sensitive information will only be collected with your prior consent and only if it is directly related to, or reasonably necessary for the research we conduct.

How does Gundabluey Research collect and hold your personal information?

Gundabluey Research will generally collect your personal information directly from you in the course of you participating in our research and/or surveys. However, we may also from time to time collect personal information about you from third parties, such as qualitative research recruiters. If so, we will inform you as soon as practicable of this collection and the circumstances of this collection.

What are the purposes for which Gundabluey Research uses, handles and discloses your personal information?

We will only use and disclose your personal information for the purpose of conducting our research and in accordance with this Privacy Policy. We will not use or disclose your personally identifiable information for the purpose of advertising, promotions or direct marketing activities. If you declined to participate in our research, we may use your personal information to re-contact you for a research purpose if we have valid reasons to believe a genuine research concern warrants such re-contact. If you have participated in our research, we will only re-contact you if you were informed of this or we have valid reasons to believe a genuine research concern warrants such re-contact.

Who will Gundabluey Research disclose your personal information to?

Gundabluey Research will not disclose any personally identifiable research information we collect from you unless we have your express prior consent and will only report the information you provide in an aggregate form that will not personally identify you. We will not disclose any personal information or personally identifiable research information to a third party for a purpose other than conducting our research unless we have your express prior consent or are required to do so by an Australian law or court/tribunal order.

We do not currently rely on any third party service providers to host or store the data we collect who are located overseas. We will also take reasonable steps to ensure any service providers (and their employees and contractors) comply with the Privacy Act and this Privacy Policy and/or are subject to similar privacy laws and you have the ability to enforce those rights.

Openness

You have the right to request access to any personal information we hold about you. You can request this information by contacting the Privacy Officer at the details listed below. Where we hold information that you are entitled to access, we will respond to your request in a reasonable time and endeavour to provide you with a suitable range of choices as to how access is provided (eg, emailing or mailing it to you). A fee may be charged to cover the cost of retrieval. However this fee will not be excessive and will only apply to the facilitation of your request.

If at any time you believe that personal information we hold about you is incorrect, incomplete or inaccurate, then you may request amendment of it and we will either amend the information or make a record of your comment, as we think appropriate.
